Correspondents have all sorts of questions to answer, and many of them are as difficult of solution as the most abstruse conundrums. Imagine the abject holplessness one must feel at being obliged to make reply to the question, "What kind of women do men like best?" If I should answer, "Only perfect women please men," I am sure it would be a mistake, because men like human women. They like the kind of woman who likes to get off in a corner and enjoy innocent to gost of in a corner and enjoy innocent gossip with other women about new, gowns, new books, weddings, teas, and hunches, that men are not interested in—various justices arising from the prevalence of small-pox in the county last summer and the destruction of buildings which have been occupied by small-pox patients and burned by order of the Board of Health. The Board of Supervisors will not recognize the values of property destroyed by the Board of Health and assessed by the justices constituting said board. In one of these cases before the Board of Supervisors a claimant for damages, by his counsel, asked to introduce testimony in support of his claim. The board informed the attorney, through tis chairman, that it was useless to introduce testimony; that the board paid no attention to testimony, and very little attention to lestimony, and very little attention to law or lawyers; that they would do what they pleased, without testimony, law or lawyers, and if the parties were not satisfied they could appeal to courts, where they could have as much law as they wished. Mr. I. B. Bell is counsel for the claimants, and this is the version of the small-pox matter, and that much litigation will necessarily follow.
